VOICE OF THE NEW NATIONAL FRONT

LABOUR COUNCILLORS SUPPORT QUEERS

...but ban patriots

THE LEFT-WING DOMINATED Greater London Council caused an uproar last month by agreeing to make grants to three homosexual groups in the metropolis. Ken Livingstone and his friends intend to use public money to subsidise degeneracy and perversion.

The total sum involved is £4,750 and the groups among which it is divided are Lesbian Line, London Friend and the London Gay Teenage Group.

Said Labour Councillor John McDonnell, Chairman of the Grants Panel: "We do not discriminate against Blacks, women or gays. They have enough discrimination of their own. And gays pay rates, women pay rates and Blacks pay rates."

Indeed! And there is another group of people who pay rates. These are the thousands of Londoners who support nationalist and patriotic organisations like the New National Front. Yet these organisations not only fail to get any subsidies from the GLC but are BANNED from using council-owned premises throughout the London area.

The same tendencies can be found elsewhere. The councils for London's individual boroughs and councils in other parts of the country have placed an almost blanket ban on nationalists using their halls for meetings, whether public or private. Yet many of these same councils, like the GLC, are giving money to homosexual organisations.

So we have a pretty situation. Nationalists pay rates to local councils but are denied the right to use council amenities to whose upkeep they contribute. Queers, on the other hand, are not only granted that right but given extra help as well. And this ludicrous policy is defended by Labour councillors on the grounds that queers are ratepayers!

Have you ever heard such hypocrisy!

This state of affairs is of course typical of the political left. Every tendency in society which helps to undermine decency and order and destroy family life in Britain is to be encouraged and supported. Everything which spreads degeneracy and decadence in our country is in favour – and furthermore gets financial support.

On the other hand, anything patriotic and pro-British is to be opposed – and indeed suppressed.

Not that the Conservatives are very much better. Conservative councillors have been almost equally eager to slap bans on patriotic political groups using council premises for meetings. Meanwhile the Tory faction on the Greater London Council has supported a grant of £7,600 to an organisation set up to help prostitutes.

The politicians of the 'Establishment' fall over themselves to assist and subsidise everything that contributes to the collapse of society, while they passionately oppose those who are working for national regeneration. They champion moral corruption while they fight against moral rebirth.

A SIGN OF OUR TRULY SICK TIMES

SUBSIDISED

This revolting picture shows a demonstration of homosexuals and lesbians agitating for 'gay rights'. Creatures like this have the full approval of Labour councillors, and in some areas, like Greater London, they are getting subsidies from local government to promote their filthy practices.

BANNED

This is a march staged in London by a patriotic political organisation – as can be seen by the large number of national flags. It represents everything sound and healthy in British life. Yet Labour councillors, often supported by Tories, have banned these patriots from holding marches and meetings.

AVOIDING POLAND'S FATE

NEWS FROM POLAND over the Christmas period cast an ominous shadow that we in Britain would be foolish to ignore. While we indulged ourselves in an orgy of spending, eating and drinking, the hapless Poles had to endure food shortages, bloodshed and the manifold inconveniences of living under martial law. Such are the penalties of the tyranny we call Communism.

The events in Poland, culminating in the military crack down headed by the Soviet puppet, General Jaruzelski, demonstrate the spiritual, moral and material bankruptcy of Communism. As in Hungary, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and elsewhere, the military take over in Poland proves that Communism does not work; it is a failed system depending for survival on threats, repression and the use of force.

But the obvious failure of Communism should not lull us into thinking that what is happening in Poland cannot happen here. Already there are numerous signs that a concerted effort is under way to impose a Soviet-style regime on the people of Britain. We have here large numbers of home-grown Marxists who will make their bid for power the moment that they feel strong enough to succeed. Some of them, people like comrades Scargill, McGahey, Benn, Livingstone and Tariq Ali – to name but a few – make no secret of their political objectives; while others, as recent spy scandals have shown, lurk anonymously in Government Departments – often with the acquiescence, if not connivance, of those in authority – eagerly awaiting the day when it will be safe for them to creep from beneath their stones.

Whilst many Britons are either oblivious to what is going on, or would rather not know, the overt and covert Marxists in our midst prepare without any hindrance for the day when they hope to take up the reins of government. Unless we are prepared to do something positive to halt the onward march of Communism here, we are in for a rude awakening, perhaps sooner than we think.

Despite their present tribulations, the Poles are much better equipped to withstand the onslaught of Communism than the British because of their well-known nationalistic fervour, which is an essential requirement for the survival of any nation not endowed with natural boundaries. By comparison with the Poles, nationalist sentiments are almost non-existent in Britain, thanks largely to the anti-British, pro-internationalist propaganda to which we have been incessantly subjected by the media for many years past.

Fortunately, it may still be possible for us to avoid the fate that has befallen the gallant Polish people; but in order to do so we must sow the seeds of Nationalism and Patriotism in the hearts and minds of our compatriots while there is still time. That is the task to which all Nationalists must address themselves.

Wanted: more White babies

GENEALOGISTS employed by Debrett's Peerage and Baronetage, that mighty work which is essential reading for fond parents who would like to see their offspring marrying into one of Britain's aristocratic families, recently gave warning that unless white couples produce substantially more children, the white races will become extinct in the not-too-distant future.

This alarming prediction is based on official figures which show that the average number of children born to white couples is insufficient to ensure the survival of the white races. According to Debrett, an average of 2.1 children must be born to each couple for races to survive. At present, the average number of births per couple is 1.4 in West Germany, 1.7 in Scandinavia and 1.8 in Britain, France and America.

During recent years a massive population explosion has been taking place throughout the world; but while the dark-skinned and yellow races have been multiplying prodigiously, the white population has been at a standstill, and in some areas has actually declined, owing to the increasing use of the pill, abortion, vasectomy and other methods of birth prevention. White couples may not actually have a death wish; but by their reluctance to beget offspring they are unwittingly committing race suicide.

The failure by Whites to breed more children not only endangers the existence of the white races themselves; it also has dire consequences for the future of the world because it is the genius of white people that has been largely responsible for the enormous strides taken by mankind since the dawn of civilisation. Without the white man, it is a fair bet that the world would revert to the barbarism which existed before he put an end to it.

MAINTAINING THE RACE

Following Debrett's timely warning, the company's managing director, Mr. Harold Brooks-Baker, was reported by The Daily Telegraph to have said: "It is not just a question of maintaining the excellence of the race, but maintaining the race." This remark is particularly surprising because, so far as we are aware, Debrett has never before concerned itself with racial matters, but only the affairs of Britain's so-called 'upper crust'.

WHITE FERTILITY
This fine collection White children was photographed at the St. Albans Twin Club. We need more of their kind.

Another of Debrett's staff, Mr. Noel Currer-Briggs, who is the author of Family Historian, was even more forthright in his concern for the future of the race. He has warned young people to avoid "mongrel breeding" and advised them to be "more aware of their families, their inheritance, and their blood line."

How dreadfully racialist the remarks of these gentlemen will sound to the likes of Mr. David Lane! The Commissars at the Commission for Racial Equality will almost certainly carpet them for having dared to emphasise the obvious merits of selective breeding!

FAMILY STRUCTURE

Mr. Currer-Briggs is also reported to have remarked: "Societies with a strong family structure have been more successful (than societies without such a structure). Once the family is weakened, society is weakened. A strong family is important for freedom." Quite so. And are not these self-evident truths equally applicable to race? Is it not a proven fact that if the racial homogeneity of a nation is weakened, that nation is weakened? And is it not also a fact that nations blessed with a strong racial awareness and cultural distinctiveness have throughout recorded history been infinitely more successful than those abject half-caste communities which today are euphemistically called "multiracial societies"?

Debrett's genealogists are in something of a quandary. Clearly it would be inconsistent for them to claim that a handful of British families are innately superior to the rest of the population whilst paying lip service to the fashionable delusion that all races are equal. After all, if it is wholesome and desirable to improve and strengthen the family, why should it be unwholesome and undesirable to endeavour to improve and strengthen the race? And, in any case, what is the race but an extension of the family? For these reasons Debrett probably felt obliged to burst the bubble of egalitarianism which is so prevalent today, and which poses a threat to the exclusiveness, if not the very existence, of the 'Top People' upon whom Debrett's genealogists depend for their livelihood.

PUBLIC SERVICE

Nevertheless, whatever may have been Debrett's motives in drawing attention to the threat to the survival of the white races caused by their self-inflicted infertility, by airing their concern they have performed an invaluable public service; one that it would be criminal folly for us to ignore. The simple fact is that we must produce more babies. The argument that in this country we have no room for a population increase is fallacious: if we were to rid ourselves of the hordes of racial aliens now residing here, there would be plenty of room for at least five million British babies.

Our ancestors, though poor, were not afraid to breed. Had they not done so, we would not be here today. Just as our forebears gave us the life we now enjoy, so it is our duty to produce offspring so that future generations of Britons may also enjoy life. We must breed to ensure the continuation of our race.

QUOTE

"You go into Harrods and you don't see any white faces. Nobody asked me if I wanted a multiracial society."

– Greville Wynne, former British spy in Eastern Europe.

YOUR LETTERS

Sir,–I hear that actor Richard Burton is about to make a film in which he plays the part of composer Richard Wagner. Burton apparently has already delivered his verdict on Wagner: "He was a self-centred egotist of the worst kind. He cared for absolutely nobody. He was an anti-Semitic monster who took other men's wives and money but somehow continues to fascinate people."

This may or may not be a just description of Wagner but to hear Burton, of all people, giving it sounds utterly hilarious. I suppose, though, that RB cannot be an 'anti-Semite' – or he would have been finished in Hollywood long ago!

D. M. Sayers
London S.W.11

Sir,–I hear that Prince Charles is now doing his bit for multi-racial Britain by hiring a Black secretary. Meanwhile the Archbishop of Canterbury is making his contribution by advocating the appointment of a Black bishop. The grovelling antics of these 'pillars of the Establishment' make me want to vomit. It seems as if the whole ruling class of Britain is rotten to the core. I am not against ruling classes as such – just the one that happens to prevail in this country. If it meets with the same fate as the nobility of pre-revolutionary France, that will be nothing more than it deserves.

M. Fitzpatrick
Leicester

Sir,–So Freddie Laker's airline has gone bust! I can't say I am unduly upset by the news. About a year ago Laker was pictured in Israel wearing a yarmulka and fawning on the Jews. Apparently this cost him quite a bit of goodwill in the Arab world and some lost business as well – I remember hooting with laughter at the time.

Laker always seemed to me one of those synthetic 'patriots' who liked to be seen ostentatiously banging the drum for Britain – as long as it inflated his profits – but who never gave a penny of any of his money to any genuinely patriotic cause.

R. Dutton (Mrs.)
Banbury, Oxon.

Sir,–The other week I went into a large stationers shop and saw six pieces of drawing office and copying machinery on display there. I looked at the manufacturer's label to see where they originated. Three were made in Italy, one in the United States, one in West Germany and the remaining one – would you believe it? – Portugal! Not a British product in sight, of course.

NEWS ROUND-UP

FOLLOWING the publication of the Hytner Report into last summer's Moss Side race riots, Manchester's Chief Constable, Mr. James Anderton, has told the Greater Manchester Police Committee that his policemen are becoming reluctant to intervene in street incidents involving Blacks for fear of being accused of racial harassment. Mr. Anderton told the Committee that he was "tired of these constant attacks on the police without reference or apparent concern for the danger to which officers were exposed."

THE SCHOOLS COUNCIL has published a report about school examinations stating that GCE and CSE exams "confuse ethnic minorities." The report, Examining in a Multi-Cultural Society, urges the examining boards to take ethnic minority pupils into consideration because they can be at a disadvantage, particularly in mathematics and science examinations.

SINCE the Scarman Report was published, Lambeth's policemen feel "constrained and apprehensive" about tackling crime, says the Metropolitan Police Commissioner, Sir David McNee. Although Lambeth's crime figures for the third quarter of 1981 excluded crimes committed during the race riots, 611 offences were reported during the period. This represents an increase of 245 (67 per-cent) compared with the same period of 1980.

BRITISH COMMUNIST sympathisers and fellow travellers were responsible for the imprisonment, torture and deaths of many Hungarians before and during the 1956 uprising says Mr. Paul Gorka, vice-chairman of the Hungarian Freedom Fighters' Association. Mr. Gorka, now a naturalised British subject, came to Britain after escaping from Hungary 25 years ago.

LORD SCARMAN has suggested that as more ethnic minority policemen are required, tests for entry into the police should be made simpler for coloured applicants. Home Secretary Willie Whitelaw speaking on the same subject in the House of Commons also said: "We need to look closely at why candidates from the ethnic minorities have difficulty with the entrance test, and we need to be sure that these tests are free from cultural bias."

THE METHOD for allocating time on TV and radio to the political parties for party political broadcasts is to be reviewed following protests from the Social Democratic Party. The SDP complains that present arrangements are preventing it from getting any time on the air. The review will be undertaken by a committee under the chairmanship of Mr. Francis Pym, Leader of the House of Commons. Unlike several other smaller parties which have been contesting parliamentary seats for many years, the SDP is to be invited to participate in the review.

THE Commission for Racial Equality has submitted proposals for the "ethnic monitoring" of workers to the Employment Secretary, Mr. Tebbit. The proposals, if approved by Parliament, would require employers to keep records of the ethnic composition of their workforce. The proposals seek to enforce "positive discrimination" by a variety of means, including the acceptance of lower educational standards for the ethnic minorities.

RACIAL ATTACKS: HOME OFFICE ADMITS THE TRUTH

Report by
THE EDITOR

A reader has kindly sent me a copy of Racial Attacks, a Report recently published by the Home Office. The Report gives an account of a Home Office 'Study' into racial violence, which was undertaken in a number of selected areas "in response to anxieties expressed by bodies concerned with the welfare of our ethnic minorities . . ." (My italics).

The contents of the Report will give multiracialists and the well-paid functionaries of the booming race relations industry very little comfort, despite attempts by the media and politicians to persuade us that the Report proves that there is at the moment in Britain a veritable reign of terror of which Coloureds are the principal victims.

But even Mr. Whitelaw, in his foreword to the Report, was forced to admit that "Extremists (i.e. British patriots) have not to any discernible extent been involved in organising or orchestrating particular attacks, but they have exacerbated tensions within society . . ." Wrong, Mr. Whitelaw: it is not "extremists" who have exacerbated tensions, but you politicians who allow hordes of immigrants to come here. Indeed, it is you and your sort who created the tensions in the first place.

What emerges from the Report which must be even more embarrassing for the race mixers are the figures which, when analysed, conclusively show that Whites are overwhelmingly the principal victims of racial attacks in the areas studied. Although those responsible for producing the Report have, by a variety of statistical devices and the clever manipulation of figures, tried to camouflage the innate violence of many coloured people, Table 2 on page 9 of the Report shows that out of 2,851 "inter-racial incidents" recorded, only 775 (27.2 per-cent) were allegedly committed by Whites, compared with 2,076 (72.8 per-cent) said to have been committed by Coloureds. These figures are very different from what the politicians and the media would have us believe are contained in the Report. But before we become too immersed in statistics, let us remember that those 2,076 victims are real people living in their own land, many of them too old or infirm to defend themselves from the attentions of aggressive aliens. That is the real tragedy that Mr. Whitelaw and his fellow multiracialists have wrought upon us.

Another victim of Black violence: police officer at Toxteth.

THATCHER ECONOMIC POLICY IN RUINS

NOW EVEN FELLOW TORIES ADMIT FAILURE

THE GOVERNMENT'S PROGRAMME for economic recovery so obstinately defended by Mrs. Thatcher over the past three years is now in ruins – so much so that even leading members and supporters of her own party are having to admit the fact.

Early this month Mr. Francis Pym, Leader of the House of Commons, issued a message of gloom to the nation in which he acknowledged that unemployment was going to rise still further and living standards were going to fall for some time to come.

FRANCIS PYM
Let the cat out of the bag.

At the same time the pro-Tory Confederation of British Industry said that it can see "no evidence that any recovery was under way yet."

With the figures for out-of-work now over 3 million and rising all the time, it is little wonder that even the former partisan supporters of the Government are now becoming disillusioned.

The truth is that conventional 'right-wing' solutions to the problem of the British economy have failed as disastrously as have 'left-wing' solutions. Capitalism has proved as inadequate as Socialism. It is time to scrap both these old doctrines and to pioneer new ideas adapted to the facts of the last quarter of the 20th Century – facts which render traditional Capitalism and traditional Socialism completely out of date.

The most important of these facts is the equipping of the factories of the East to produce manufactured goods for sale on world markets at prices with which highly paid workers in Western industries cannot possibly compete. This revolution in the world's economy which began in Japan has now spread to many more Eastern countries, in the forefront of them Hong Kong, Taiwan, Singapore and Korea.

This new phenomenon renders obsolete the idea that the recovery of the British economy can come about by a recovery of Britain's traditional share of international markets, and the policy – which stems from that idea – of stripping British industry to the bone in order to enable it to compete in those markets.

Certainly, many sectors of British industry are inefficient and unproductive and need to be modernised both in respect of their automotive techniques and their labour practices. But throwing more millions onto the unemployment scrapheap is not the way to do this, anymore than is the pumping of further money into run-down industries while doing nothing to change the outmoded working practices that put them at the bottom of the league for productivity.

A new order of industrial relations must be introduced by the decree of government to which all the unions must be obliged by law to conform, and this must set as its first target the achievement of the maximum industrial efficiency. At the same time massive new opportunities for employment must be provided, not by phoney 'job-creation' schemes financed at the cost of the taxpayer but by the closing of the British market to manufactured goods from abroad and the rapid expansion of industry in this country to fill the gap. Economic Nationalism must replace International Capitalism and International Socialism.

by FRONTIERSMAN

KING ARTHUR

By his election as president of the National Union of Mineworkers, Arthur Scargill has at last found the Holy Grail that he has sought for so long. But the election of this Anti-Nazi Leaguer to such an important position will be cold comfort to many old people who will be worried that this soon-to-be-crowned King Arthur will use his newly-acquired power to topple the Thatcher Administration by depriving the country of coal. Dying of hypothermia to satisfy the cravings of a megalomaniac is a bleak prospect. That an upstart Marxist like Scargill should be able to gain control of so important a body of men as the miners is a cause for grave concern. Had he been born a Russian or a Pole he would, of course, have been 'liquidated' long ago.

ARTHUR SCARGILL
How can such a wrecker gain control of the miners?

OBSCENE JAMBOREE

On several occasions I've used this column to express my disapproval of the Government's defence cuts, and in particular the planned run down of our first line of defence – the Royal Navy. Imagine, then, my disgust on learning that a two-day NATO Nuclear Planning Conference held at Gleneagles last October cost somewhere in the region of £200,000, of which "about half" was paid by the Ministry of Defence, according to the Ministry's Deputy Chief of Public Relations. (It occurs to me that the Ministry could make substantial savings without endangering national defence if it were to close down its Public Relations Department!) Ironically, the man who presided over this obscene jamboree was none other than Defence Secretary John Nott, the very same gentleman who, on announcing the cuts, told us that they were necessary because we are living beyond our means!

C.R.E. IN DISGRACE

A House of Commons Select Committee has accused the Commission for Racial Equality of being frivolous, wasteful, inefficient and tendentious, as well as lacking a sense of priorities etc. etc. The Committee is not telling us anything we didn't already know; we've been drawing attention to the meddlesome nature of this latter-day Star Chamber for a very long time. But long-winded pronouncements telling us the obvious won't put matters right. What is now required is the immediate dismantling of the CRE – lock, stock and barrel. Crackpots like David Lane and his henchmen must be given their marching orders forthwith.

CLIMB-DOWN

At the Royal Tournament this year it was intended to stage a mock-up of a battle in which Queen Victoria's troops routed a force of Egyptians 100 years ago, culminating in the Queen reviewing her soldiers as they arrived triumphantly home. The scheme, however, was completely scrapped following protests from the Egyptian Embassy. The Egyptians found the display offensive, and the Foreign Office reacted immediately by contacting the Ministry of Defence and persuaded them to have it called off. Instead, there will be a mock-up of Napoleon's retreat from Moscow with the 1812 Overture played at the finale.

I wonder what good Queen Vic would have thought were she to have been able to witness this pathetic climb-down, which somehow typifies the flabby spirit of contemporary officialdom in Britain. I suspect that she would have been 'not amused'.

PRIOR WARNING

One of the more injudicious official statements to have been made in recent weeks was Jim Prior's reply to the Reverend Ian Paisley after the Loyalist leader had made it clear that the Ulster Loyalists had been pushed far enough by IRA terrorists, and that if the Government were not prepared to do something about the terrorists the Loyalists would have no option but to resort to the use of force. From the safety of Stormont Castle Prior boldly warned Paisley that the Government would "not allow" private armies in Northern Ireland. Really! And what, I would like to know, is the IRA, if not a private army? And what is the Government doing about the IRA other than providing our troops with rubber bullets?

IAN PAISLEY
Forced to action by Government pussyfooting with IRA.

PAISLEY BAN

I find it quite extraordinary that the United States Government, after allowing into America every conceivable brand of IRA supporter, should impose a ban on the Rev. Ian Paisley entering the country. Dr. Paisley is in no way a threat either to national security or public order in the US. Why was his visit stopped?

Surely it can only be because President Reagan is frightened of the power of the Irish Catholic lobby in the United States and wants to appease that lobby with a view to future elections. Isn't it time that the 70-80 million Anglo- and Ulster-Americans organised their lobby to support their kind – both inside and outside America?

COMMON MARKET COMMENT

EUROCRATS TURN TO FRAUD

EVER SINCE New Frontier was launched at the beginning of last year, this column has unceasingly sought to draw the attention of our readers to the malpractices which are symptomatic of a bureaucracy like the EEC, and to the disadvantages of membership which that busy-body organisation has had for the great majority of British people.

During the past year we have produced what is almost a catalogue of complaints about the EEC and the way that it is administered. Continual criticism is, we admit, rather a negative attitude to take; but we can honestly say that we have so far been unable to discover anything that can be said in its favour. To us, its internationalist aims, its continual meddling in Britain's domestic affairs, its involvement with the affairs of non-EEC countries like Afghanistan and Poland, its provision of subsidised foodstuffs to Warsaw Pact countries and elsewhere, its adverse effects on British industries like fishing and farming, and its pettifogging bureaucracy and overweening self importance are anathema.

All in all, the EEC is proving to be a disaster for Britain as we Nationalists predicted that it would. Far from benefiting the majority as it is supposed to do, it simply enriches the few at the expense of the many. Readers will remember how Edward Heath, architect of Britain's membership of the EEC, made a fortune by being awarded the Charlemagne Prize for services rendered to 'European Unity'. Roy Jenkins, now desperately trying to re-enter Parliament under new colours, also did very nicely out of the EEC: his untaxed salary, as readers will recall, rose from fifty to eighty thousand pounds per year during the four years that he was President of the EEC Commission.

JENKINS
£80,000 a year tax-free.

But some Eurocrats are not content with making money legitimately out of the EEC. A recent report issued by the European Court of Auditors has revealed discrepancies of over £1 million in EEC bank accounts. And when the auditors asked for explanations for the discrepancies, the departments concerned replied that they were unable to give them any! The auditors also discovered that a fitness centre, which includes a swimming bath and a sauna, had, without any authorisation whatsoever, been built in Luxembourg for the exclusive and free use of Commission staff.

As if these revelations were not bad enough, the auditors' report has also highlighted massive frauds involving the infamous Common Agricultural Policy. The auditors discovered that of £12 million claims "irregularly" made for farming subsidies during 1980, less than £1 million had been recovered; and during the same year export subsidy frauds amounted to £8 million.

HEATH
Made fortune from services to EEC.

NNF gets IRA banned in Coventry

COVENTRY BRANCH of the New National Front succeeded last month in getting a ban placed on a march through the city by IRA supporters.

The march was to have taken place on January 31st in commemoration of the so-called 'Bloody Sunday' in Northern Ireland 10 years ago, when the Army rightly gunned down a number of members of a rioting mob in Londonderry. The march, had it been allowed, would have represented an appalling provocation to Coventry people, English and Irish alike.

Coventry NNF Organiser Alan Stewart had the event stopped by threatening to stage a counter-march through the city on the same day. The local police chief immediately appealed to the Home Secretary to have all marches banned for the period in order to prevent a breach of the peace, and this ban was duly enforced.

The counter-march threat won massive local publicity for the NNF, and we produce here a selection of headlines to illustate this. Major credit for this campaign must go to Alan Stewart, who has put the party's name on the map in Coventry in the past in a similar manner.

Martin Webster's old National Front tried at a late stage in the proceedings to get in on the act and hog some publicity for themselves by copying Alan Stewart's tactics and applying to hold their own march. This, however, failed to achieve a fraction of the impact intended, and the old NF bandwaggon-jumping trick received scant attention in the local press. Webster had called for a nationwide mobilisation of his members for the event and after he had been banned from Coventry he tried to follow the

DEREK MERRY TO GO FOR TRIAL

DEREK MERRY, NNF Activities Organiser for Plymouth and South Western Region, has been summonsed to appear at Plymouth Crown Court on March 22nd to face charges under the Race Relations Act arising out of the NNF rally in Plymouth last Summer which attracted nearly 600 participants. Mr. Merry may have to go to prison as a result of these charges and is ready to do so. We all wish him the very best of luck in the trial.

Sponsored walk

THE SPONSORED WALK being organised by Derek Merry of Plymouth branch of the NNF, which was advertised in our November issue but subsequently postponed, will now be held sometime before March 22nd, on which date Mr. Merry is due to appear in court.

The walk will be from Plymouth to London and is of 200 miles distance. It is hoped to complete it in one week. All money received will go towards the purchase of a club-building for Plymouth NNF.

The walk will be undertaken by Derek Merry and Andrew Perrin. It will be an arduous undertaking and deserves the support of NNF members and followers all over the country.

NNF Branches were issued with sponsor forms last year. Will they all now make sure to fill them in and send them in as soon as possible. All forms should be sent to NNF, Box 115, Hove, E. Sussex BN3 3SB.

IRA supporters to an alternative march location. One of our reporters witnessed the old NF assembling at its rendezvous point and counted about 180 present — two years ago a minimum of a thousand would have been in attendance at such an activity.

POSTAL HOLD-UP

SOME CUSTOMERS of New Frontier may have been late in getting their copies over the past month or so. We assure them that this has nothing to do with slackness in our office, which has dealt with all orders promptly. It is due entirely to the disorganisation of the postal services. We regret very much the inconvenience caused but it is due to factors outside our control.

ATTACK

On Sunday, February 7th, a team of New Frontier paper-sellers in South London's East Lane were set upon by a mob of old NF supporters egged on by NF Directorate member Mark Spong and viciously attacked. One seller, Chris Collins, received some bad injuries.

We are gathering further information about this incident and a fuller report will appear next month.

QUOTE

"Racial prejudice is quite different, for it is one of the most basic of human instincts. In a stable society, race is a vital ingredient of a sense of community."

VICIOUS PUNISHMENT

WE are sure that all our readers — and indeed all Nationalists — will wish to join us in protesting at the outrageous sentence passed at the Old Bailey last month on Joe Pearce, editor of the National Front's youth magazine, *Bulldog.

In our opinion it is monstrous that a 20-year-old Englishman should receive a six-month prison sentence for daring to publish the truth. The severity of the sentence can only be described as barbarous when it is compared with the lenient treatment meted out to the most bestial rapists, to the savages who hurl bombs at our policemen, and to the cowardly brutes who terrorise the lives of our old folk.

Joe Pearce is the victim of laws aimed at stifling free speech and silencing any criticism of the odious race-mixing policies which successive governments have inflicted on the long-suffering British people. Joe may be the victim; but the craven politicians and scheming multiracialists are the really guilty ones.

Even at this late stage we hope that sanity may prevail and Joe Pearce be released, though this seems extremely unlikely. We also hope and pray that one day those people responsible for the race laws and for introducing hordes of immigrants into our country will find themselves languishing in prison. If we have anything to do with it they certainly will.

UNITY MOVE

AFTER MORE THAN 2 YEARS of disunity among nationalist groups in Britain, there is now a real chance for nationalists to become united. This chance has been provided by the launching last month of the Committee for Nationalist Unity, a special non-party body set up for the purpose of bringing nationalists together in a single political party.

The CNU was formed as a result of several discussions taking place during 1981 between representatives of different nationalist factions, including the New National Front. In January the CNU sent an appeal to the heads of all nationalist parties throughout the country, as well as to the local leaders of those parties, to come to a conference to be held early in 1982 to negotiate a unification.

The leadership of the New National Front has affirmed its total support for this unification scheme and its willingness to attend such a conference. So far the Committee has received no replies from the national leaders of the other factions but there has been a most encouraging response from a number of local branches of those organisations.

New Frontier will keep its readers informed on the progress of this unity campaign.

ACTIVITY PLAN 1982

MAJOR ACTIVITIES of the New National Front will this year be organised, for the first time, in accordance with a national plan, drawn up well in advance and striking a fair balance between the needs of the different regions of the country. This plan will give to those organising events ample prior notice to make all arrangements and will enable all participants to keep the dates free and, where necessary, save money for travel. To facilitate travel to national activities on the part of hard-up or unemployed activists, branches are being asked now to begin organising special funds to subsidise travelling parties.

The party's Activities Department announced last month that there will be three national activities during the year: a march in London on April 24th (to celebrate St. George's Day); a march in the North of England in September; and a national indoor rally in London in October. Major regional activities are scheduled for Coventry, Plymouth, West Yorkshire, Glasgow, Hull, Kent, Buckinghamshire, North West England and Tyneside and will take place between March and October.
